

Introduction to WISRD Publications

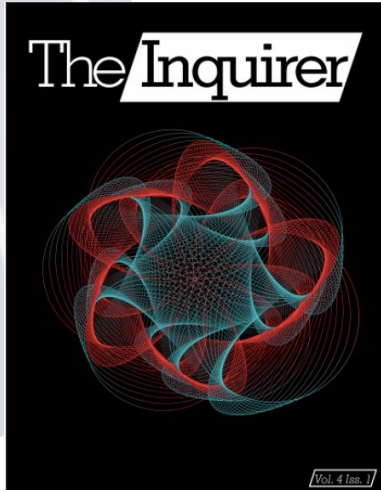

2020-2021

The Inquirer
Research Journal
White Papers

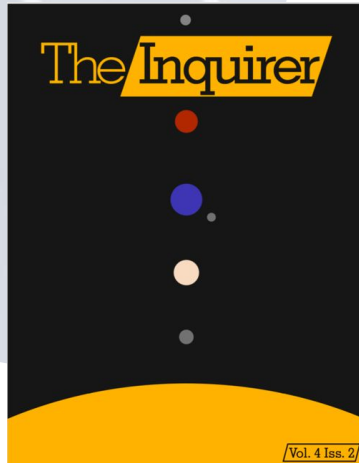

- Visit wisrd.org/publications
- Inquirer published Winter 2020, Spring 2021
- Journal published Fall 2020
- White papers published throughout the year

The Inquirer

- Fall/Winter 2020 semester: 10th and 11th graders
- Spring 2021 semester: 9th and 12th graders
-

Why is writing an expectation in WISRD?

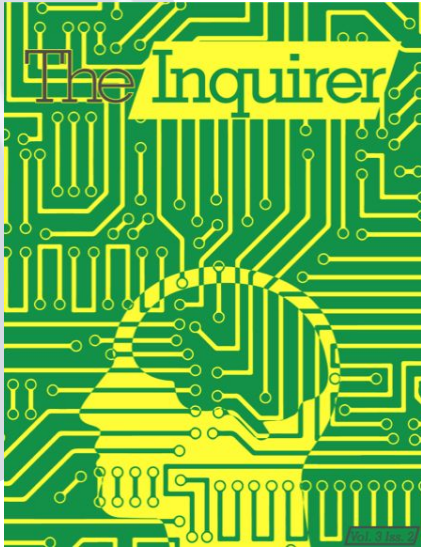

Writing to communicate research or sell an idea will be a part of your education/career regardless of field.

WISRD is the perfect place to practice developing these valuable skills!

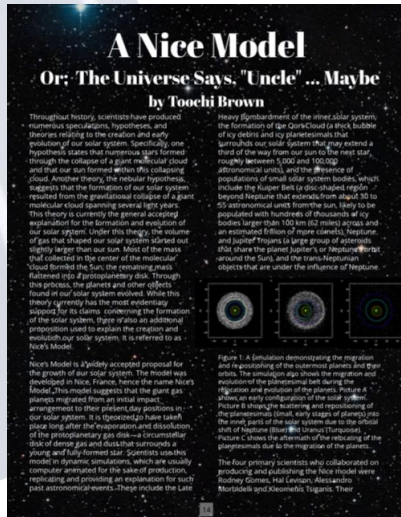

Your research can only have impact if you can communicate.

Article Topics

- Use your lab/field of study in WISRD as a guide (Habit of Connection)
 - For example: if you work in Hydroponics, consider topics like genetic modification, sustainability, agriculture
- Past topics include: artificial intelligence, honey bees, psychology, and more

Conventions

- Articles should have:
- 2-4 pages, single spaced, without images or citations, minimum
- MLA-style citations (use NoodleTools)
- Relevant images with citations

Style

- Articles should have:
- Catchy title
- Engaging opening paragraph
- Sustained energy

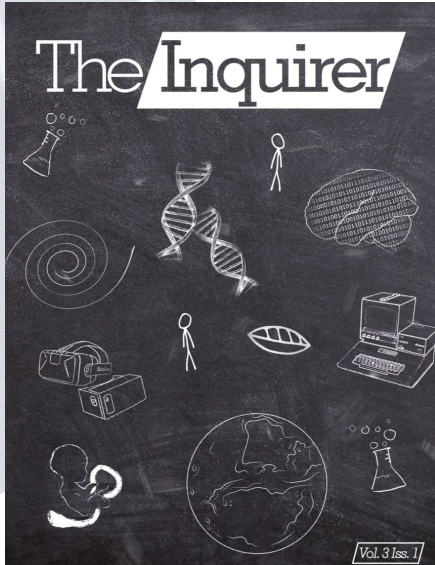

Content

- Articles should have:
- Depth
- Foundation
- Meeting with Scott
- Editorial process

Images

- Articles should have:
- Illustrative and meaningful images
- Source documentation
- Proper attributions
- Rights clearing

Deadlines

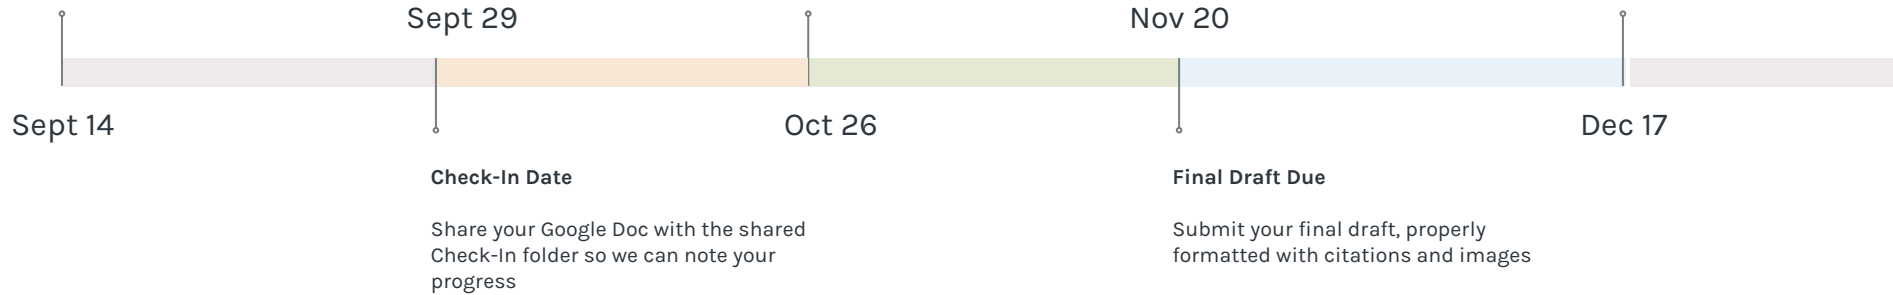

Topic Due Date

Email danib21@wildwood.org with your topic and get started writing!

First Draft Due

Submit your first draft and wait to receive feedback from the Publications team

Publish

Resources & Getting Started

Writing Workshops

Lunchtime writing workshops with Publications team
every few weeks
via Zoom

Website

Visit
wisrd.org/publications
to read past
issues

Professor Moreno
Professor Moreno
is generously
offering small
group and private
writing coaching
to WISRD
members!

Email
danib21@wildwood.org
to request a
session

QUESTIONS?